AFRICAN TEXTILE & APPAREL INDUSTRY

The continent with immense possibilities is now taking pragmatic steps towards industrial development. Textile & Clothing industry has always been the first stepping stone of industrial development of a nation. Africa as it prepares for industrial revolution; Textile & Clothing industry is going to be a part of nation building process. With base of ample cotton production and huge population, Africa also has a large indigenous market. Also, textile is the basic necessity of mankind and the multilateral trade treaties with large consumer markets (like AGOA) offers huge opportunity to develop this sector.

Africa is known for various types of printed fabrics and for their uniqueness in design and color. The continent also grows large volume of cotton including premium Egyptian cotton which has history of over 3000 years. Modern textile industry has developed in several countries and offers excellent opportunity for future growth. Among the leading textile manufacturing nations in Africa are:

Algeria, Egypt, Ethiopia, Ghana, Kenya, Lesotho, Madagascar, Mauritius, Morocco, Nigeria, South Africa, Tanzania, Zimbabwe.

ITMACH AFRICA

CONNECTING AFRICAN TEXTILE INDUSTRY TO LATEST TEXTILE TECHNOLOGY

ITMACH stands for International Textile Machinery and Accessories Exhibition. ITMACH AFRICA would, therefore, be an exhibition comprising of all textile machinery and accessories from fiber preparation to finished apparel. This is an initiative to connect the textile machinery and technology suppliers to the African Textile industry. ITMACH AFRICA aims to bring firsthand experience of witnessing live demonstration of textile machinery and technology by the African investors, technocrats and production managers as well as facilitate sharing of knowledge, ideas and explore business opportunities within and outside Africa.

ITMACH Africa is organized by K And D ITMACH Expositions LLP (owners of ITMACH India, which is a successful international textile machinery exhibition in India) and supported by leading textile industry trade journal Textile Excellence.
